The background of the cover is a dark, textured composition. It features a large, gnarled tree branch or root system that winds across the frame. Overlaid on this are numerous thick, white, swirling lines that create a sense of motion and depth. The overall effect is reminiscent of a woodcut or a high-contrast photograph.

THE history of the retailing classes for the school year, 1948-1949, indicates that the year was one witnessing not only consolidation of gains of last year but new advances in instructional material, methods, and equipment.

The new members of the classes were pleased and honored to be visited on numerous occasions throughout the year by teachers and principals from other schools who, in many instances, traveled considerable distances to get first-hand information on this new phase of high school education.

The high spot of the year was May 5 at which time the retail training laboratory was formally dedicated. Particular appreciation was expressed to the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, its $1200 donation being largely responsible for the initial action taken by the local Board of Education which led to the installation of our laboratory in its final and complete form as it stands today.

LED by the return of 20 veterans from the previous year, the 1948 season saw A.H.S. come up with one of the strongest football teams of the area. The team not only finished one of its toughest seasons with a 5 and 2 record, but brought the Class A Championship to A.H.S. It was the first year that the gridders participated in the league.

Probably the greatest victories of the season were those over Johnstown and Mont Pleasant. For the first time in eleven years an Amsterdam "Eleven" beat Johnstown. The Mont Pleasant victory was the big one of the season. Considered as the powerhouse of the area and the team headed for the Class A Crown, the Red Raiders came to Amsterdam to add another win to the four they had already won. But the tide was turned and a fighting A.H.S. Eleven whipped the Raiders by the astounding score of 37-6.

After that Troy and Nott Terrace also succumbed to A.H.S. The Nott Terrace game brought an end to one of Amsterdam High School's most colorful seasons.

MOTHER Nature and Amsterdam Baseball Team just couldn't agree with each other last year. Hampered constantly by rain, the Hilltoppers barely got eight of their twelve scheduled games played. The team won four, lost three and tied one.

With most of the veterans leaving the year before, last year's team was made up of almost all rookies. Jack Tracy's boys should have a good season this year with most of last year's team returning. The baseball team is also playing in the Class A League and presents a tougher schedule than teams in the past have faced.

J. V. BASKETBALL TEAM

- First Row Salvatore Morreale, Richard Gawron, Anthony DiCaprio, Robert Smith, Julius Mihalzo, Paul Dybas, Joseph Campo.
- Second Row Joseph Emanuele, John Garrity, Richard Gardinier, James Barker, Harold Sutter, Frank Szurek, Anthony Squeglia, Mr. Varsoke, Coach.

JOHNNY Versoke' s J.V.' s came through with one of their unusually fine records this year. Winning 13 and losing 4. They played a good brand of ball all season. Lead in the scoring department by Tony Squeglia, Hal Sutter and Dick Gardiner and in the play making department by Gus Mihalzo and Frank Szurek. The J.V.' s were beaten only by Mont Pleasant and Nott Terrace with the Nott Terrace games both being decided by one point.

For the second year in a row the J.V.' s decidedly whipped their city rivals from St. Mary' s showing plenty of promising players. Johnny Varsoke' s boys should strengthen the Varsity Team next year and for years to come.

Varsity Basketball

First Row William Teeter, Ronald Torsone, Edward Wells, Salvatore DeVenanzio, Nicholas Cavaliere, Robert Flint, Donald Decker, Manager

HAVING another good season, the A.H.S. cagers ended the season with an over-all record of 12 wins and 5 losses. Little Eddie Wells and Big Chuck Marshall were the main cogs in the scoring department.

With four of the previous years starting five returning the Hilltoppers ended up in second place in the Class A League and participated in the post season playoffs where the A.H.S. cagers showed that they were among the tops.

Among the more unfavorable things that happened to A.H.S. this past season were the two losses to S.M.I. It was the first time in their traditional rivalry that St. Mary's team was able to garner two wins over A.H.S. in a single year.

WRESTLING, a new addition to the A.H.S. curriculum of sports, gained the interest of many students this year. Only in existence for the second year, a large number of boys tried out for the team and the matches were attended by a good size crowd of rooters.

Coach Ed Cionek's "grunt and groan" men participated in five matches this year, winning two and losing three. The A.H.S. boys took one from Van Hornsville and Richfield Springs. They were downed twice by the matmen from Mont Pleasant and once by Van Hornsville.

If the boys show as much interest in wrestling as was shown this year, it should soon become a major sport. New uniforms have already been acquired for the team.

COACH Ed Cionek's trackmen participated in four meets last year. In a triangular meet at Gloversville, A.H.S. placed second being nosed out by two points. They also placed second in a triangular meet at Honstown, first at the American Legion Play Day and fifth in the Saratoga Invitation Meet.

Many of last year's capable performers will be back to bolster this year's track team and we hope that they will meet with another very successful year.

Senior Play

THE comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George Kaufman was presented by the Class of 1949. The cast under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Schuyler performed before an enthusiastic audience that thronged the auditorium. The judges, Mrs. F. Forest Howe, Mr. D. Locklin, and Attorney W. E. Moore presented the Michael E. Kleopfel Memorial Award of the Little Theater, to Elizabeth Scott.

The home of Martin Vanderhof in New York provided the setting of the play which revolved around the life of a somewhat eccentric family. The part of Mr. Vanderhof, or Grandpa, a genial old man who lived for the pleasures life offered rather than its material values, was capably portrayed by James A Smeallie. Essie Carmichael, Mr. Vanderhof's granddaughter was cleverly played by Nancy Aulisi who had great hopes of becoming a ballerina and was spurred on by her husband, Ed, humorously enacted by Robert Jetter, who provided xylophone music to which Essie danced. Ed's other hobby of printing resulted in circulars which later caused a great deal of trouble. Penelope Sycamore, Grandpa's daughter, who wrote plays because eight years before a typewriter was left at the Vanderhof home by mistake was played by Mary Cooper. Much confusion was provided during the play by Paul Sycamore and Mr. DiPinna who spent their days making firecrackers and rockets. These roles were ably played by Ralph Caruso, Jr. and Umberto DeRose, respectively. Throughout the play, Reba, the colored maid enacted by Jacquelyn Burke, and Donald, Reba's boy friend, by Stephan Friedman, supplied the audience with laughs galore.

Elizabeth Scott, made a delightful appearance as Alice, Paul and Penny's other daughter, the only one who had escaped the mild insanity that prevailed among the other members of the family. Alice announced that she had a date with the boss's son, Tony Kirby, adeptly played by Charles Dana who though wealthy and having prestige, readily accepted the peculiarities of Alice's family. Meanwhile, Martin Geruso as Henderson, a collector from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, called on Grandpa and demanded that he pay income tax, which he had never done, and after a futile argument hastily left with promises of future government action. Boris Kolenknov, Essie's Russian dancing teacher was skillfully portrayed by James Knezich. In the midst of a "quiet evening at home," Tony and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, realistically played by Richard Tenison and Mary Ann Krupczak paid a premature visit on the Vanderhofs and Sycamores. During the course of a very strained evening, Edward Majewski, Richard Corcuera, and Robert Millett, ably portraying F. B. I. agents, rushed in and arrested everyone. As a result, Alice decided to leave home and not marry Tony. 17. Nellie Znamierowski, capably playing the part of Grand Duchess Olga Katrina, a friend of Boris', appeared and prepared to make blintzes for the family. After an argument with Mr. Kirby, Grandpa straightened things out. The firecrackers were destroyed, Grandpa didn't have to pay an income tax, and Kirby realized that the Vanderhofs were not so bad after all. Even Alice saw the light, and as the curtain closed, she and Tony were making wedding plans.

Class Will

WE, the vivacious, intellectual, and omnivescient Seniors of 1949, being of sound mind and philanthropic disposition do make known our last will and testament.

1. That well known wolfess, Carol Stryski, bequeaths to Maxine Sirmon her charm and ability to capture any boy's heart.
2. Connie Davis leaves to John Kalinowski those qualities which tend to confuse Miss Mosher's life.
3. We don't know how the Mixed Chorus will survive without Mary Alice Hagaman and Winnie Foss, but we hope Helen Kosinski and Marge Davison will do their best in taking over.
4. Phyl Huffmire and the Journalism Class hope next year's Editor and Item Staff will enjoy working on the Item as much as they did.
5. Helen Kansas, the skipper of the Yearbook, leaves her whip and her promptness and perseverance to next year's editor.
6. Bob Dylong, the only "student" in the Vergil class leaves his title to anyone who can justly claim it.
7. Jim Knezich, gives his "twinkle toes" to Buddy Turek. (Take care of them Buddy, they're scarce commodities)
8. Betty Scott, the Senior Class' gift to Broadway, leaves her thespian talents to Sonia Bush.
9. Frank Della Posta, Republican nominee for the presidency in 1960, leaves his executive ability to Bill Levine and little brother, Thomas Della Posta.
10. Elaine Novak's vim, vigor and vitality have been left to Judy Schuster.
11. To Sally Greco will go Nancy Aulisi's outstanding leadership and personality.
12. Mary Cooper leaves her linguistic ability to be divided between two French students who really need it.
13. John Shandorf bestows his flashy ties, socks, and clothes to dress up the "sloppiest" Junior.
14. Joan Dickey leaves her gift of gab to Marilyn Gahr who isn't doing so bad herself.
15. Eugene Canale leaves the 88 fast-flying keys on the ivory board and his "dead-pan" expression to Ed Staknis.
16. Eva Constantino leaves her gymnastic abilities and "double dribble" to Louise Glamm.
17. Bill Tarnowski hangs up his football and basketball shoes on a hook, hoping they will fit some underclassman.
18. As for David Bonafede---we, of the Senior Class, just leave him-----
19. John Bryk says, "Silence is golden," and thus leaves his gold mine to Jim Lyons.
20. Janet Beer bequeaths her amicable disposition to Barbara Devine, Nick's girl.
21. Bob Jetter leaves his witty retorts to Norman Thompson.
22. Fran Kukowski, in spite of Mr. DiBlasi, leaves her reckless driving to any irresponsible Junior.
23. To James Millett goes his brother Bob's skill in performing a "half-nelson."
24. Stan Mroczkowski, leaves his diplomacy and tactfulness to Bernie Kuczek who needs them badly.
25. Bob Bird leaves his "mad scientist" brother to the Chemistry Department in hopes that he devises a bomb better than the atom.
26. James Smeallie leaves his ability to do almost anything to a few Juniors who can do nothing.
27. Robert Scott leaves his ability to be late every morning to Michael Sollecito.
28. Marilyn Gilman gives her messy locker to any Soph stupid enough to accept it.
29. The Senior Class leaves its drive, daring and determination to the Juniors who they hope will emerge as successful as they did.
30. We still being of sound mind after having written this, bequeath our pens and inspiration to the writers of next year's will.

Class Prophecy

FLASH!!! - 2049 A.D. -- Robert "I haven't got a spare minute, have you" Scott has just invented an atomiscope. These roving reporters got one and while glancing around the earth we spotted a new town. It seems that due to the discovery of "Long Life Licorice" by Professor Einstein Miskinis shortly after graduation, people are able to retain their age and live longer. He was generous enough to make it available for a price to all his fellow classmates of '49. Then they all settled in one spot and a thriving community has taken the place of a once barren desert. Let us take a tour of this city called "Madretsma" and see what's new with the graduates of the Wilbur H. Lynch Senior High School, Class of 1949.

To get there, we take Druce's Rocket Ship piloted by none other than daredevil Reichal, and his co-pilot Lorraine "Run them down" Blazejewski.

As we walk down Main Street we see Burke's Robot Maid Service with Stephen Friedman as General Manager which guarantees housework done in 10 minutes. Next door we find Edson's Ice Cream Parlor where we see Jacobs, Leonard, Fritz, and Bubniak eating some of Bernard Bogdan's Body-Building Atomic Ice Cream. Overhead we see Siekowski's super slow speed rocket balloon advertising the coming picture, "Mystery at 3 O'clock" at Riccio's Ritzy Theater, starring those famous detectives Richard "Sherlock" Graham and George "Holmes" Eigabroadt.

As we venture farther on down Madretsma's Main Street, we pass the respectable office of those excellent ex-criminal lawyers, Cappuchio, Constantino and Sapone. There is smoke pouring out of the doors and windows; and we investigate, finding that they are settling the life-long case of Davis vs Krupczak.

Then we are attracted to the smell across the street coming out of the Canale-DeRose Delicious Dialectic Delicatessen. Entering, we spied some of Delos' delightful sugar-covered doughnut holes which he has been collecting since graduation. After talking over old times and swallowing our repast, we again set forth, only to find quite a large gang outside the next store where the glittering marquee says "Panunzio's Pool Parlor." We move closer and recognize many old faces, among them Dabiere, Dickens, Farina, and Felker.

On the corner across from Neri's News "I won't tell you what's in the back" Room, we see two men fighting for this peddler's paradise. They are the Allen's. Ed is selling tickets to the moon, while Joe is letting anyone look through his new telescope to see this. Just then the earth trembles under us and we are greatly astonished but the friendly cop, Bill Vanderpoel tells us that Bird and Bullis are carrying on experiments in their laboratories on the outskirts of town.

Because our feet are killing us, we hire one of Kietzman's Kiddee Kars and scoot off to City Hall where we are greeted by Richard Bik, the city treasurer, who is famous for his backward bookkeeping. He sends us up to see the mayor. We pass the Unemployment Bureau and see Langley and Lampkin arguing with a prospective employer. They want more time off. Then the big oaken doors of the Mayor's office open and we see Harry Flint puffing a fat cigar and enjoying life. He jumps to his feet and welcomes us to his fair town and also Mayor Flint introduces us to his two assistants, Water and Liquor Commissioner Al China and Golf and Pinball Controller Rich Salamack. All in all the situation looks favorable in the political center. We say goodbye and again enter the hallway, only to find Criminologist Corcuera rushing by hot on the trail of those stealthy underworld characters of Caruso, Albright, and DiCaprio, the bankrobbers. It's quite a case but "Fearless" Corcuera will crack it. Upon reaching the main hall, we gaze curiously upon a little old man who wasn't able to buy Miskinis' "Long Life Licorice." His smile is gone and it takes all his efforts to push the broom. Every once in awhile he stops, emits some oratory and motion frantically. Then he sadly shakes his head and goes back to his job. Who is this janitor? -- Who is this man? -- Why, none other than our old class president, Frank Della Posta. It is a great day for Frankie and we spend some time cheering the old gent up.

Because we are hungry, he recommends a local drugstore for a bite to eat. On the way, we pass the Civic Auditorium where is posted the coming of the Oskash Symphony under the capable direction of Sir Charles W. Dana and featuring that dynamic trio of the keys, Foss, Gaska, and Slezak.

Another block down on the other side we find Moran's Muscle Building Emporium. Inside, Tommy is busy building up Zmugzda, and Piechecki. After a short hike, we stand in front of a large impressive building. The sign tells us it's Wilson's. Inside Dick, the third generation of owners, shows us to a flossy table. It is said that Dick has expanded his drug store into a chain which is competing with Rexall. Behind the soda counter is Chelsea Porter, champion jerk, soda that is.

After a fine meal, we treat our feet to Schultz's Soothing Salve for sore feet. Now we feel fine and bid farewell to the Proprietor and direct our ambling ways to the center of the town's culture.

First, we visit the small marble art gallery where there is a special display of the works of the foremost American artist, Raymond Laske. Also there is some abstract art by Madame Tokarowski, portraits by Lady Topping, and Modern Art by Monsieur Hull. We move on to the pride and joy, the campus of M.I.T.-- yes, McHarg's Institute for Twerps. High above the administration buildings we see fluttering in the breeze the colors of the University, burple and mold. We discover that under Sarah as President is David Vidulich as Academic Dean, Angeline Vairetta, Dean of Men; and Richard Marsh, Dean of Women. Miss Znamierowski is teaching Russian. Mr. Tenison is the teacher of serious speech and other bad habits. None other than Prof. Sievers is teaching psychology. The football team coached by Stan Vainauskas had a fairly successful year. From one of the rooms we hear wierd noises and, upon looking in, we find Stephen Dzikowicz teaching violin. A Miss Wells is teaching a new popular language, Latin. Dr. Jetter is head of the mad scientific and research laboratory. Right now Bob is home recuperating from concoction of the brain.

Let us leave the busy sections of town behind and proceed onward into the quiet realms of Store Heights where we see Mrs. L. Hughes (nee Beverly Larson) sending her thirteen dear little ones to school before she and Mrs. Richard (Shirley Doesburg) Farrell chew the rag over the back fence. Make way here comes Bryk riding one of Buczaki's Beetle Baum Bicycles and selling the Daily Dope in which that famous gossip column written by Louella Parsons Huffmire appears. We see that her exclusive today is that Bob Hughes has just divorced his 20th wife and says that he is through with matrimony. As we read on, we see that those five well known women Bartoszek, Ciotto, Davis, Peters, and Tybor have just returned from a fruitful trip to Reno. Also Congresswomen Jager and Jennings have arrived safely in Moscow where they hope to reform the government. In her advice to the lovelorn, we see that Miss Huffmire tells a certain Beer to go to a coming concert and another bit of advice goes to "Handsome Hotaling."

As we proceed down the street, we hurry past the home of those batty bachelors, Walczak and Wegrowski and we catch a glimpse of Mrs. Frances Kukowski Melosky and Mrs. Brooks (nee Patricia Corcoran) flying by on their way to Lawton and Leszczynski's Laundromat where they will undoubtedly meet Mrs. Case (nee Barbara Smalley) with whom they will discuss the recent marriage of Rose Scafidi and the debut of Rae Burke's daughter in the ballet.

As we turn the corner, we are nearly run over by that fast-flying milk delivery truck of Pidluszny's Dairy which is making a hurried delivery to Mrs. Juozitis. On down the street the Riceoppo spinsters are seen still diligently polishing their aged hopechest. Good luck, girls!!

Now we must get out our special 7-1/4 cent pieces so that we may proceed into the free state of Stoneounce which is ruled over by King Trevett today. On we go, deep into the domain of Stoneounce where we see the sprawling mansions of Doak and Strack. Also we pass the homes of such notables as Wellman, Nikstenas, Going, English, and Kolbe.

Down in a quiet valley we find Hopeless Hospital with its staff of notable doctors and nurses. As we enter over the intercom we hear "Calling Dr. Ireland, wanted in Surgery." As we approach the receptionist desk we see Theresa Barbato talking to Valeria Bednarczyk. We stop and chat a few minutes before Nurses Firth, Ferguson and Hausman escort us around. In the nursery we see Nurses Covell, Curran, and Dr. Dybas working over a difficult case of the mumps. On down the corridor we pass the emergency ward and see that they have just brought in Dick Saka-dowsky, Mike Kerbelis, and Don Redding who have just smashed up in their Cole Coil Cab and nurses Bachosz, Martuscello, and Opalka giving them the "best" of care. In another wing of the building we see a ward filled with the members of that famous women's football team whom it seems were beaten by the Chicago Bears. Some of those involved are Bancroft, DiBlasi, Fedullo, Greco, and Roberts. We hear that some more of our friends are here but the sight is too trying so we must omit the rest of the journey and go back to the city.

Time is now fugiting and the day has been a joyous one. But wait--everyone seems to go to a nightspot after supper, so let's tag along. It's Danny Donohue's Dine and Dancetorium. Ed Majewski greets us at the door and gets us a ringside table by the floor show. Danny comes over, sits, and talks. He looks like a king but it's still good old Dan. We notice Jim Martin, the connoisseur of liquor and chief mixer of drinks. In the show we remember several girls from high school, Califano, DiSenza, Pagliaro. Tom Guiffre is M.C. while Lais tries to amuse the folks with some cornies. Orchestra music is by Bonafede and his Beat Up Boys.

We glance around and see many old faces and some new better halves. We meet everyone, and it's like old homeweek for the Class of 1949. But it's late and we're tired, so before we sign off, we want to say we're sorry if we didn't include you and sorrier if we did. But, we know the Class of 1949 is all right and will live forever.

Your humble servants,

Helen Kansas and Jim Smeallie

Class History

ONE day in September 1946, came 409 Sophomores strong and ready for action. The first notable event in their young lives was "Hell Week" spoken in deep whispers by Sophomores. Only Pledgees understood about the cigars, tobacco, and vinegar. After this grueling experience they then elected William Tarnowski, President; Richard Tenison, Vice-President; and Nicholas Cavaliere, Secretary--Treasurer. The Sophomores soon settled down to high school life and crammed for their first exams. Most of them came through we are glad to report.

We sailed into our Junior Year and elected as President, Richard Tenison; Vice-President, Frank Della Posta; and Secretary-Treasurer, Elizabeth Scott. The most important thing to us was the Junior Prize Speaking Contest. The Century Club prizes went to Elizabeth Scott for her presentation of "Patterns" by Amy Lowell and to Frank Della Posta for "Sam Small and Paul Revere" by Paul Gerard Smith. Our Junior Dance was a great success due to the hard work of all those on the committees. The gym was decorated as a circus, with music by Freddie Clute.

That ended our Junior Year, and then we were transformed into high and mighty Seniors. We chose as our Class Officers Frank Della Posta, President; William Tarnowski, Vice-President; Elizabeth Scott, Secretary; Nancy Aulisi, Treasurer. It is almost time for us to leave A.H.S. Our Class Program and Senior Ball bring these three happy years of our lives almost to a close. As the years go by, there will always be a place in our hearts for the wonderful three years we spent in A.H.S.

RAE EHRKE AND WINIFRED FOSS

The Observers

It kinda looks like the beginning of the end---the beginning of another report from your "ever loving, never faithful Observers"---but the end for us! Lord save us (and if he can't, nobody can) when all our "dear" readers see who, what, where, when and why WE ever got stuck with a job like this. Well, the show must go on, so here we are in our suits of armor, ready to give out with any information fit to print and otherwise.

The year of 1949 has been a prosperous one for youse and us (mostly us)! We've come to the conclusion, after much concentration, deliberation, consideration, observation, elimination and exaggeration that true "steadies" are few and far between. Following are the steadiest of the steadies:---First off, loving cup of the year goes to Larry Hughes and Bev Larson, and the second prize, a twenty-five year subscription to "Good Housekeeping," goes to Nick Cavaliere and Barbara Devine, in hopes that they can make good use of it. And then of course we have our unseen, unheard (?) Jean Bartoszek and grad, Vito Marsicano---There is always one booth reserved in Doyle's for Carol Strycki and Jimmy Quinn, and one in Sammy's for Ralph Caruso and Ellie Dwyer (S.M.I.). Distance means very little to grad. Barbara Hutchison and Bob (handsome) Hotaling. . . Frank (the pride and joy of the Senior Class) Della Posta is still dividing his time between carrying out his executive duties and in writing letters to that certain out-of-town girl. (P.S. We think his duties, through no fault of his own, have the upper hand.) . . . Wedding bells may soon toll for Fran, "the dancer" Kukowski and Ed Meliosky. . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farrell (nee Shirley Doesburg) "For Whom The Bells Will Toll" need we say more? . . . The Marilyn Guertin-Jack Griswold affair is confusing, to say the least. . . Joan Donnelly's wallet is still full of pictures of Frank, "the heartbreaker," Albright. . . Glennwood, "Timber," Cronin has come out of the forest long enough to realize that Dolores, "Linda" Davis is the real girl for him. . . Dick, "fizzy" Fiset although having graduated, still spends a great deal of his time in school waiting for Mary Cooper to pass classes. . . Ellie Harrower and Pete Smeallie, are still playing "ring around the gas pipe" (or will it be ring around the finger?). . . In the case of Barbara Thompson and Jimmy Smeallie, we have a case of a college girl bowing to a Senior. . . Then we always have that cute combo of Shirley Robson and Joe, "I love you still" Babrowicz. . . Janet Wells is still true to her Union man, Chuck; she even wrote poetry about him. . . Corrine Kimball doesn't find waiting for her Navy man, "Pinky" Symolin too hard, especially since she has that diamond to cheer her up. . . We think for the twins, Jean and June, that it's going to be Ray Mosher and Ronnie Lawton for a while. . . Up in Tribes Hill, we have those chums, D. Schroeder and M. Jager still twoing it with Chuck Goody and Jack Boggie (S.M.I.). . . Marlene Maines still finds riding in Bernie Going's car very enjoyable. . . Sometime the Dolores "Dee" Fiebka and Done Harvey situation may straighten itself out, for these two really have stars in their eyes. . . Don Juozitis seems to have struck the right key and found that music and Evelyn harmonize very nicely together. . . Eileen Rukstinat is practicing up on her basketball in order to keep up with Siena College man, Ralph Fedullo. . . "Quickie" and "Doc" will be dancing up to Sherman's again this summer. . . Rog Langley can constantly be seen with the "boys" since Mary Etta Pickrell took off for Missouri--this bears thinking about. . . It will be a pleasure for Eddie Keeler to go to the hospital if he can have Doris Hanna (grad.) as his nurse. .

It is a well known fact that our school is packed with wolves and wolverines. Too bad the government doesn't pay a bounty for them or we Observers could really rake off. For instance, we have Main Streeters Sylvia Zimolka, Claire Strosz, and Bernie Tybor. . . In the male line are "Gibby" Edmonds, Dave Mac, Bert DeRose, Eugene Canale, Johnny Hackett, Dick Salamack and of course Joe Allen. . . We have found this year that a certain group of boys have been particularly lucky in keeping out of our traps, for instance, Fay Dickens, Bob Hughes, Ray Dabiere, Bob Scott and Patsy Sollecito, to name a few, have been very successful in keeping out of romantic entanglements. . . Janet Beer and Winnie Slezak haven't been caught (permanently, that is). . . We wish that "Love them all, leave them all" Jack Pikul would make up his mind among Barbara Berinati, Jean DeSorbo and a host of others. . . How long will it be before Johnny "Suave" Sorbero gets snared? . . .

Leave it to a soph, Rena Crossley, that is, to captivate the heart of our much sought after, Bill "Tucker" Tarnowski. We wonder what will happen when Bill goes to Clarkson next fall. . .

In spite of her many romantic escapades, we're sure that our hard working "Item" Editor Phyl Huffmire, will eventually go back to her sailor boy, Herm Liebert. We know that their theme song is still "We'll Be Together Again."

We hope that college doesn't affect the status of one of our sweetest and favorite couples, Pat Corcoran and Marty Brooks. We're sure that Dan Cupid will see them through. All the fervent attempts to capture the heart of handsome he-man Stan Morocco, have ended up with Stan still "steadying" it with his favorite bodyguard, Richie Bik.

Throughout the year, Betty "Bankhead" Scott has been constantly consulting her horoscope to see which one of her many boy friends will eventually win her for good.

And now, since all good things must come to an end, so must we give up our well loved job and identify ourselves. After making reservations on a super speed rocket for parts unknown, we lift our veils and hope to remain, indebtedly yours, NANCY AULISI AND JIMMY KNEZICH --
THE OBSERVERS

Class Poem

To top us all in executive rank
We have our friendly leader Frank;
His fame is known throughout the halls
And at his feet, great honor falls.

Our Vice-President Bill Tucker
Deserves a lot of thanks;
With his athletic ability
We hope he makes the "Yanks."

Nan's a whiz at figures
And has kept our funds in line;
She will be a great success
And in everything will shine.

Betty Scott, that friendly lass,
Is really up to par;
Her pep and personality
Will really take her far.

Nellie, Wells, and Dylong
Get many a ninety-nine
While Joe Allen, Moran and Cooper
Can make any honor line.

Out upon the desert sand
Wolves are prowling on the loose;
Beware when Carol and Jack start out--
Oh! don't bother, cooked is your goose!

The queen of fashion, Ellie,
Who always looks so chic
Has that extra something
That really makes her click.

Bob Millett has been "asking" me
With knife upon my throat
To put his name in this-this-poem--
Now, just watch him gloat.

Who says that girls aren't reet,
In basketball and such?
For dropping all the points in,
Eve and Mary have the touch.

Those cheerleaders led by Smalley
Did their best to make us yell;
With such girls as Elaine and Shirley
Why wouldn't they be swell?

With Pancho and Danny as the stars,
What could stop our football team?
A championship was their goal,
But not without Martin's steam.

Our basketball stars are many--
Squeglia and Flint, just to name a few;
But if we didn't have Punky Wells,
We don't know what we'd do.

Have you heard Dick Tenison
Or Richard Salamack?
They're what you call "funny"
But Humor's what they lack.
(P.S. Only Joking)
As boys throughout the world
With girls all love to flirt,--
Well now, who wouldn't, when
Concerned are Bev and Guert?

Frank "Guy" Albright sends the girls
Cause he is so fair;
And wherever boys are,
Mary Alice will be there.

When you're feeling gloomy
Cause you've had a spat,
Come to high school's humor two,
Our own Chuck and Pat.

In the band, we hear Jim S.,
Strumming on his cello
While Chuck plays his trombone
And Larry tunes most mellow.

The band would really be at a loss
If absent were Don J.
Bev Larson with her clarinet
And Dick and Bernie K.

Delighting us with pretty tunes
Is Teresa Pasquarelli,
While two "Sinatras" of our class
Are Bert and Alfred Nelli.

That home room 'round the corner
Is filled with famous ones
Among them Huff and Helen Kansas
The best under any suns.

We'd love to sing the praises
Of each and all of you,
But space and ingenuity
Limits us to just these few.
